

Thanks for popping in. My name is Mark Sadegi and I'm thankful everyday to be able to earn a living from programming! Below are some public repos that I occasionally improve and often refer to when I want to reference a concept. Also, a link to my portfolio and sample writings are listed too.

1. Bike Shop: A demo e-commerce app with a basic example of how to build a shopping cart with GenServer.
2. EventIngestor: A demo repo to simulate an app which will ingest a high-volume of events that could come from a device, user behavior, machine on a factory floor, etc. Built with Elixir
